

Commission on English Language Program Accreditation Call for Nominations

The Commission on English Language Program Accreditation (CEA) solicits nominations for commissioners to serve on the Commission January 2023 through December 2025. The Nominating Committee will be identifying four new Commissioners to begin three-year terms in January 2023.

Qualifications of commissioners

Elected CEA commissioners are identified on the basis of their professional experience and integrity. They have experience, training, and interest in English language programs and institutions, as well as in program evaluation. They have strong leadership ability, a commitment to quality English language education for international students, and an understanding that their role is to ensure CEA's standing as a respected, impartial, specialized accreditor and well-governed non-profit organization.

Commissioners understand the function of English language programs and institutions within the broader context of postsecondary education and international education. Commissioners are:

- a. academically qualified, having earned graduate degrees in disciplines related to language instruction and educational administration;
- b. knowledgeable professionals who have gained the respect of their peers through their involvement in professional activities;
- c. experts who have one or more domains of expertise related to program or institution operations;
- d. experienced evaluators having conducted self-studies, reviewed educational programs, or served with other accreditation programs;
- e. effective communicators who possess demonstrated skills in team building and written and oral communication; and
- f. respectful professionals who demonstrate a capacity to act without bias, maintain confidentiality, and exercise balanced judgement.

Commissioners are expected to

- make accreditation decisions based on documents submitted by the candidate program or institution and the review team
- review, assess, and revise Commission policies as necessary
- serve on Commission subgroups
- attend CEA training workshops in the first year of service
- monitor the field for new developments and serve as an advocate for CEA
- serve the goals of CEA as a specialized accreditor for the field, not “represent” their own program, institution, or sector
- adhere to CEA policies regarding conflict of interest and confidentiality
- assure that the Commission is in sound fiscal health
- ensure compliance with requirements of the U.S. Department of Education
- attend three annual Commission meetings (held in April, August, and December virtually or at CEA's offices in Alexandria, VA) and participate in occasional virtual meetings
